

BUCKEYE G. O. P. DIVIDED ON WET-DRY ISSUE

HOUSE MEMBERS VOTE TO BRING OUT BONUS BILL

$2,400,000,000 Payment
Measure Gets Formal Consideration

VETERANS CROWD INTO GALLERIES

Action Comes Today On Motion By Patman,
Texas Democrat

(By Associated Press).
WASHINGTON, June 13.—The house today voted to call up
the $2,400,000,000 cash bonus payment
legislation for formal consideration.
This action represented a step toward victory for the 20,000 war
veterans who have poured into Washington to demand immediate payment of the bonus certificates.

Galleries Are Packed
While the vote was being taken,
and long before, the house galleries
were packed with former service men who watched tensely all proceedings. Outside long lines of veterans stood, hoping to gain admittance.

If the house approves the bonus
payment on the final vote, the legislation still must run the gauntlet
of the senate and the White House.
What action the senate will take is problematical. But President Hoover has promised a veto.

Action today came on a motion
to bring the resolution by Representative Patman (D., Tex.) up for consideration. The vote was obtained through a petition signed by 145 house members.

Take Up Bill Tomorrow
The vote for consideration was 226 to 175.

A few minutes later, the house
agreed to take up the bonus legislation tomorrow and consider it until
a final vote is reached.

Meanwhile, senate leaders claimed to have 55 votes—a majority of the 96 members—against the proposal.
If they are able to muster that number on a roll call the legislation is doomed for this session.

More Vets Reach Capital
WASHINGTON, June 13.—As new thousands poured today into the capital to add their voices to the war veterans' demand for bonus

Rotary Will Hear Story of Police

This week's meeting of the Salem
Rotary club will be held at the Quaker tea house at 6:30 p. m.
Tuesday, instead of the regular noon hour.

The speaker will be Attorney
Homer H. Swaney of Beaver Falls, Pa., district representative of the attorney general's office. In this capacity he is legal advisor for the Pennsylvania state police in his district and he will tell of the activities of that department, particularly with respect to highway patrol.

Attorney Joel H. Sharp will be in charge of the meeting.

Child Is Burned, Dies Suddenly

Important Figures as G. O. P. Meets in Chicago

Here are four of the leaders of the Republican party who will play prominent parts in the national convention in Chicago. Representative Bertrand Snell, of Potsdam, N. Y., will be permanent chairman. Senator Dickinson of Iowa will be keynoter and temporary chairman. Both are ardent drys. James A. Garfield of Cleveland, son of the late president, is in charge of drafting the platform and Senator Fess of Ohio, Republican national committee chairman, is entrusted with the job of keeping the delegates in line.

CHASES DOG, WALKS INTO FIRE EMPERS

Jerry Lee Wachsmith, 20
Months, Succumbs
At Home

Jerry Lee, 20-months-old son of
Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wachsmith, West
Eighth st., died suddenly at 4 p. m.
Saturday at the home. Complications are given as the cause of death
following burns sustained accidently on Thursday afternoon.

The Wachsmith family was camping at Lake Milton, where the accident occurred. Jerry was running after a dog and in efforts to get the animal he tramped through a pile of ashes, left from a fire the night before, and the smoldering embers burned his feet. A physician attended the little lad after the accident but it was not considered, at the time, that the child was seriously burned.

The family returned to their home here Thursday evening. Saturday afternoon the child became suddenly worse and died a short time later.

Besides his parents, Jerry is survived by one sister, Joyce Elaine.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the First Friends church, in charge of the pastor, Rev. C. F. Bailey. Interment will be in Hope cemetery.

Mrs. Ellen Elder 90, Is Hostess To Friends At Dinner

S. E. Mackintosh, Mr. and Mrs.
Cessna Mackintosh and Mrs. Elsie Elder of Salem, were among the guests at a family dinner Sunday at the home of Mrs. Lewis S. Campbell, Ellsworth rd., given in celebration of the 90th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Campbell's mother, Mrs. Ellen Elder.

Some of the others in the company were Mrs. Robert Crum and family, Alliance; Mr. and Mrs.
George Elder, Lima; Mrs. Mary
Bowman of near Ellsworth, and Mrs. Joseph Keeler and family, near Berlin Center.

The home was resplendent with beautiful flowers. Mrs. Elder was the recipient of gifts and Saturday
her friends had a postcard shower
for her.

Among her friends who called in the afternoon was Mrs. Adeline Early, 89, of Alliance. Mrs. Early and Mrs. Elder were neighbors years ago.

N. Elder, a native of Greenford, has lived in Goshen township since 1870. She is in good health for her advanced years.

COUNTY SCOUTS WILL SEE GAME

600 Boys and Leaders To Go To Pittsburgh
Friday, July 1

The Boy Scouts of Columbiana
county council are planning a pilgrimage to Pittsburgh on Friday, July 1, C. E. Felton, county executive, announced today.

Six hundred boys and leaders will visit the Carnegie museum in the morning. In the afternoon the entire group will be the guests of William E. Benswanger, president of the Pittsburgh baseball club, at a game between St. Louis and the Pirates. This will be the first opportunity for most of the boys to witness a big league ball game.
They will have the pleasure of seeing the 1931 championship St. Louis Cardinals in action.

The program for June is a full
one with many hikes and out-door
events planned. The scout leaders will hold a picnic and outing at Camp Bouquet at Negley on June 16.
The feature will be a softball game with the northern half of the council competing against the southern half. The day will close with a camp fire.

The Council Camp will take place at Lisbon on June 27-28.
This will be a two-day Patrol
Camping demonstration. The patrol attaining a standard of 75 per cent or over will have the privilege of attending the northern Ohio Campfire in August, to be held at the Stark County Camp Site.

Blame Explosion On Leaky Gas Main

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., June 13.—The explosion in the new Ohio state office building here last April 14, in which 10 men were killed and 60 injured, resulted from leaking gas from a main of the Columbus Gas and Fuel company, Attorney General Gilbert Bettman reported today to the state office building commission.

ELKS TO HOLD FLAG DAY RITES TUESDAY NIGHT

Rev. John C. Campbell, of Macedonia, O., Will Be Speaker

With patriotic orders of the city
planning to attend, Salem lodge
No. 305, B. P. O. Elks, expects a record attendance at its annual Flag day service at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the home, East State St. This service is open to the public.

Guard From Legion

Charles H. Carey post No. 56,
American Legion, will furnish a uniformed color guard for the occasion, lodge officials reported today.

Rev. John C. Campbell, Macedonia, O., formerly of Salem, second commander of Charles H. Carey
post, will give the address.

D. S. Montgomery, exalter ruler,
and a committee composed of C.
Bumbaugh, Arnold P. Lutes and
G. Kenneth Mounis, have arranged the exercises.

The program follows: Song, "Star Spangled Banner," by the audience;
prayer, Rev. A. C. Westphal; introductory exercises, exalted ruler
and officers; vocal solo, J. William Filion; "History of the Flag,"
James Kesselmeier; altar service, esquire and officers; vocal solo, J.
William Filion; address, Rev.
Campbell; song, "America," by the audience.

Mrs. Ruth Berry will be the accompanied.

Every Elks lodge throughout the United States and its possessions observes Flag day.

20 Are Born; 15 Die Here During Month

Twenty births and 15 deaths occurred in Salem during the month of May, Health Commissioner T. T.
Church announced today in his monthly health report.

Ten births occurred in the Fourth ward, five in the First, four in the Third and one in the Second. The Fourth ward also led in deaths with six. The Second had five, Third three and First one.

There were 72 communicable diseases here during the month. Forty-three were chicken pox cases, others
being pneumonia, measles, scarlet fever and whooping cough.

Two Autos Stolen, One Is Recovered

Two automobiles were stolen from Salem streets over the weekend.
Police Chief T. W. Thompson reported today.

A car owned by L. D. Cessna, East
Third st., was stolen Saturday night
and was recovered Sunday near
New Albany with tires and other equipment stolen.

Another machine, owned by J. L.
Infeld of Pennsylvania, visiting at 307 West Seventh st., was stolen
from its parking place on East Second st. Saturday night. It has not been recovered, Thompson said.

Merchant Spots Spurious Money, Hands It Back

Police today were notified of the appearance of counterfeit bills here.
A man, unknown to the proprietor
appeared this morning in an East
State st. store, submitting his order for goods and, upon receiving the article, tendered a $10 in payment.

The proprietor took the bill in his hands and was about to give the purchaser his change when he observed that it didn't have the right
"feel." He ran his fingers over it again and observed it more closely.

He turned to the customer and commented: "Someone has given you a counterfeit bill. I'd suggest that you return it to the person
from whom you got this and notify them of their mistake."

The customer took back the bill
and went outside, got into an automobile and drove away.

LISBON AWAITS FUND CANVASS

Welfare Drive To Open
This Week, Probably Wednesday

LISBON, June 13.—A canvass for funds for the operation of the Lisbon Welfare Association for the fiscal year of 1932-33 will be launched this week, probably not later than Wednesday. Trustees of this fund, following a meeting when plans for the drive was considered, announced that new cards containing names of all former contributors to the fund had been prepared, and that these would be immediately
distributed among a group of solicitors.

The drive for funds last year resulted in nearly $8,000 being contributed, and the association started the current month with a balance of $600 in its relief fund.

Youth, Girl in Love Tragedy Reclaimed From Fire Goddess

Japanese Contractor Gambles with Death, Goes Down
900 Feet Into Volcano Crater To Recover
Bodies; Gets $1,000 For Job

(By Associated Press)
HILO, Hawaii, June 13.—Man descended into the fuming crater of Halemaumau—"house of everlasting
fire"—and reclaimed from Pele, dreaded Hawaiian fire goddess, the bodies of a despairing lover who killed his sweetheart and leaped
into the volcano claspng her body.

Gambles With Death
A daring Japanese contractor, Ri-
kan Kunishi, gambled with death yesterday as he was lowered into firepit of Kilauea volcano, returning eight hours later with the bodies of Sylvester Nunes, 20, and Margaret Enos, 17.

The descent was made in a tiny cage, suspended perilously from a cable stretched across the pit into which Kunishi would have plunged to a boiling death in the lava 1,200 feet below had the cable broke.

Shortly after he reached the bottom, 600 feet below the brink on which bodies lay, he signalled with a white flag that his trip would be successful. He returned with the bodies strapped to his cage and claimed the $1,000 for which he contracted to do the job.

Kidnap, Shoots Girl
Nunes kidnaped and shot the girl
June 2, because she refused to marry him and then leaped into Pele's traditional home claspng his sweetheart's body, a brazen rebuke to the fire goddess to whom ancient Hawaiians offered a sacrifice of Ohelo berries before approaching
her abode.

Workmen spent days in arranging the cables and preparing the cage in which Kunishi descended.
A coroner's jury awaited his return from the pit with the bodies,
before returning a verdict.

BRITISH ANGRY OVER DEATH OF MORROW MAID

Case of English Waitress Takes On International Aspect

(By Associated Press)
ALPINE N. Y., June 13.—The case of Violet Sharpe, English waitress, were an international aspect today as police denied accusations
that they harried her to death.

The charge, voiced indignantly in the English press, was followed by news that labor members of parliament were expected to ask the British government today to make representations to the United States about the girl. She took poison in the home of Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow last Friday as police arrived to question her anew about her movements the night Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., was kidnapped.

Plan Final Checks
After watching the theory they built up against Miss Sharpe and Ernest Brinkert, cab driver from White Plains, N. Y., go to pieces, police busied themselves with final checks.

"There was never undue pressure
brought to bear during her questioning by police," Col. H. Norman Schwarzkoepf, head of the state police said. "On each of the four occasions."

Month of Brides Living Up to Name

LISBON, June 13.—So far this month 11 marriage licenses have been issued by Probate Judge Lodge Riddle. In the event this ratio continues more licenses will be issued
this month than in any month
since the new "five day" law went into effect.

Many young people from this county have been procuring marriage licenses in West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

W. C. Coffee, 71, Dies; Funeral Wednesday

William C. Coffee, 71, retired farmer, well known in Salem, died at 9:30 p. m. Sunday at his home,
West Seventh st. Several weeks ago Mr. Coffee suffered a stroke of paralysis which resulted in his death.

Mr. Coffee was born on a farm two miles south of Salem and had lived there until 17 years ago when he moved to this city. He was a member of the Christian church
and the Umstead class of the Sunday school.

On May 29, 1884, he married
Laura May Hayes, who survives him
with one daughter, Mrs. Zella Dunn, of Alliance, and three grandchildren. One daughter, Mrs. Sarah Coffee Walpert, died one year ago.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Christian church in charge of the pastor,
Rev. C. F. Evans. Interment will be in Grandview cemetery.

Friends may call at the Stark
memorial Tuesday evening.

DAWES LOOMING FOR 2ND PLACE ON G.O.P. SLATE

Illinois Debates Use of
His Name; Dawes' Own
Views Unknown

BINGHAM, MILLS SUPPORT CURTIS

No Action Among Ohio-
ans Against Hoover Aid, Fess Declares

(By Cecil B. Dickson, Associated Press Staff Writer.)

CHICAGO, June 13.—In the first definite move to seek another name
in the second position of the Republican ticket, the Illinois delegation tonight will consider whether to place Charles G. Dawes in nomination against Curtis.

Dawes Attitude Unknown
Whether the retiring president of the Reconstruction Corporation and former ambassador to England
would again be willing to run for the vice presidency is a point of uncertainty. Dawes is in Washington and his attitude toward the vice presidency is not known here.

Frank L. Smith of Dwight, Ill., who is expected to replace Roy O.
West as national committeeman,
expressed doubt today that Dawes
would permit his name to go on the ticket.

Senator Bingham of Connecticut
today joined Secretary Mills in his support for Curtis. Bingham said he felt the Kansas veteran should be on the national ticket.

Representative Snell of New York, who will be permanent chairman of the convention, said "there seems to be much opposition to Curtis because of his age, but the opposition is unorganized."

Curtis Has Support
It is difficult to tell what might happen," Snell said. "Some delegates claim that a younger man should be on the ticket, with President Hoover, particularly during these times of stress. But, so far, Curtis appears to have the organized support."

Senator Fess of Ohio, chairman of the national committee, said that he knew of no movement in the Ohio delegation to oppose Curtis
for the nomination.

WASHINGTON, June 13.— Charles G. Dawes today declined to discuss "in any way, shape or form"
the possibility of his being a candidate for Republican vice presidential nomination against Vice President Curtis.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The swiftly-rising whirlpool of Republican discussion over prohibition completely engulfed the chosen representatives of the party today on the eve of their national convention.

To general and rear-rank private alike, what to do about the dry
law became the one big question.
Not only were they ready to re-nominate President Hoover, but sentiment was turning definitely to Vice President Curtis for his running-mate and all of the lesser disputes over platform and procedure
seemed headed for harmonious dissolution.

"Acceptable Plank" No More
No one any longer expected harmony on prohibition. The prediction of a plank "acceptable to all of us," had gone up in smoke of the most furious platform battle since Republican convention has been since the league of nations row in 1920.

Haggard and plainly discouraged
after many hours of conference,
the high commanders of the party
continued their efforts at a compromise while indignant drys and insistent wets hammered at their doors.

A much-revised version of the plank brought from Washington
after long consultation with President Hoover remained the testing block of their labors. It declares for resubmission of the question to the

MUSIC STUDENT WILL GRADUATE

Homer Taylor, organist at Baptist Church, Competes Course
Plays In Recital Tuesday

Homer Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Taylor, East Seventh st., will graduate from Dana's Institute of Music at Warren at commencement exercises this week.

The baccalaureate service for the graduating class was held Sunday evening at the Warren Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. Dr. Ketchum, pastor of the church, preaching
the sermon. The Dana Institute choir, with Mr. Hirst of the Warren Episcopal church, organist, furnished the music.

In connection with this service
the degree of bachelor of music was conferred on a class of 11, including 10 young men and one young woman, by Mr. Dana.

Taylor will play in a piano recital on Tuesday evening, which is a part of the commencement week program. Several Salem people plan to attend the recital.

Taylor is a graduate of Salem
High school. He is organist at the Baptist church and plans to teach piano and organ.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, their daughter, Kathryn, and Mrs.
Thomas Spencer attended the baccalaureate service.

Ohio Delegation Invades Chicago; Garfield Lauded

Platform Chief Mentioned As Successor To Fess; Cherrington Demands Endorsement of 18th Amendment

BY R. P. CRONIN, JR.
Chief of Ohio Associated Press Bureau

CHICAGO, June 13.—Senator Simeon D. Fess, chairman of the Republican national committee, today denied reports that he had agreed with three other Ohio leaders, Walter Brown, Ed. D. Schorr, and Maurice Maschke, that Ohio's delegation would be for resubmission of the prohibition question in the event President Hoover takes no definite stand on the issue.

Fess said the Ohio delegation would decide things for itself and would not be bound to accept anything the leaders might suggest.

BY R. P. CRONIN, JR.

CHICAGO, June 13.—Ohio Republican forces, several hundred strong, moved into Chicago today to take part in the Republican national convention and its intricate problem of prohibition.

The Buckeye delegates are split on the wet and dry issues. Some favoring repeal, some re-submission, and others the present dry laws. At least one Ohioan was out in the open on this issue. Ernest H. Cherrington, directing head of the national prohibition board
of strategy, was one of the few who spoke his mind freely.

Cherrington, who arrived Sunday night, let it be known the dry forces would accept nothing except endorsement of the eighteenth amendment and its enforcing act.

He served notice the drys were ready to fight and would fight to the last ditch against any plank for re-submission or any expression on repeal.

The Ohio forces were more than pleased with the manner in which James R. Garfield, Cleveland, President Hoover's choice for chairman of the platform committee, faced his first public quizzing at the hands of newspapermen.

Makes Good Impression
Speaking with machine-gun rapidity, and answering each question without hesitation, the son of the martyred president made quite an impression, and soon after his appearance there were whispers that he would make an ideal Republican national chairman to succeed his fellow Ohioan, Senator Simeon D.
Fess.

Rumors that Vice President Curtis might meet opposition for renomination, circulated about the convention city, found no response
in the Ohio delegation.

Leaders said there had been no
discussion of vice presidential possibilities and that the Buckeye delegation would accept President Hoover's
choice in this respect.

Despite the diverse opinions
among the Ohioans on the prohibition question, those in close touch with them were unanimous in the belief the Buckeye delegates will unite eventually in support of whatever prohibition suggestion comes from the White House, or lacking
such advice, will follow the dictates of their four chief leaders.

CONVENTION WEEK

The Republican national convention this week will be unique in several respects. Not the least of them by far will be its extraordinary conservative tone. Insurgency will be strongly marked by its absence. For the first time in a quarter of a century there will be La Follette to disarrange well laid plans, no insurgent senators to ruffle the placidity of the party.

Herbert Hoover, who will be re-nominated virtually without opposition, will be in complete control. He will write the platform and dictate the policies. Indeed, so complete will be the control of established leadership that, barring unforeseen difficulties with the only part of the platform that promises argument, prohibition, the convention will be the shortest on record. Mr. Hoover expects adjournment not later than Friday.

Women will constitute approximately one-tenth of the delegate strength, the total of which will be exactly the same as that of the following Democratic convention, 1,154 delegates. If the movement against Vice President Curtis's renomination collapses, as it is predicted it will, the convention will be the first to renominate a national ticket without serious contest.

One wonders, in fact, when, considering the intense interest in politics this year, how the Republican convention will be able to escape the appearance of an anti-climax to the turbulent years of the Hoover administration. It would seem, however, that the ordinariness which is almost certain to characterize the occasion will be a decidedly valuable asset to the party. The Democratic convention, destined to be the opposite in every respect, will inculcate in the people no such feeling of confident strength.

The four-year cycle of national politics is coming rapidly to its starting point. The middle of June and convention season has come upon the country no more rapidly than will come the first days of November and the election. Like children who have waited long for a party the mood of the people is to enter into the occasion with all the intense enthusiasm that makes interesting politics possible.

RESIGNATION ON PRINCIPLE

It isn't the least bit difficult to ring out a rousing cheer for Representative Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida. She will resign her seat Dec. 1 because she has lost the nomination. She does not believe in "lame duck" office holding.

Others, who insisted vehemently that they did not believe it was right for a repudiated congressman to return to Washington, have been unable, or unwilling, to translate their belief into action. They have taken their legal rights to heart when the test came, and lingered on.

Mrs. Owen, re-elected to the present congress without opposition, a fact which easily might have convinced her that defeat in the primary was another of the unfortunate accidents that characterize the system, does not choose to quibble. In defeat she makes as strong a bid for fame as ever she did with the solid backing of her district behind her.

Resignation on principle is an action so rare in the public service that Representative Owen may be said to have qualified herself excellently for future service to the people.

It seems as if people were all the time saying to Jimmy Walker, "Hold out your hand and shut your eyes"—Detroit News.

For the man who drinks nothing, drives no auto, has no radio, never goes to a show, doesn't go hunting or give his wife perfume for Christmas and has little or no income, it's a grand tax bill—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

What Others Say

SLOGAN FOR ALL

The General Federation of Women's clubs is holding its biennial convention in Seattle, Washington. The following slogan is offered for the approval of the international body: "Save saving, spending, sharing."

Government, business and industry well and profitably could adopt and live up to this basic economic battle cry.

But it is in the American home that depression is fated to receive its coup de grace—not in conferences, domestic or international; not on boulevards or in legislatures.

The American housewife, "enlisted for the war," will bring new glory to the flag of the nation, new happiness and prosperity to the people of this country, and by her triumph, indirectly to all peoples, through the application of this comprehensive economic plan for every family, which embodies the principle of intelligent buying and the financial training of children along with sane saving.

The women, at least, remember our nightmarish season of inflated values, easy credit and Barnum salesmanship; they remember also our savage contrasting period of deflation, collapse, of credit, diminished purchasing power, the penetrating pinch of poverty of near poverty—discomfort and hardship, in any event. They now bravely announce intention to fight their way back to economic sanity, and they tell us how in four words.

But they are mighty, cabalistic words. They are words which should be emblazoned above the desk of the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate—above the desks of every business and industrial executive in the land.—Cincinnati Enquirer

The Stars Say—

Tuesday, June 14

The dominant place of the intriguing and baffling planets, Uranus and Neptune, in this day's affairs, presage the development of the abrupt, unusual and novel, which may have a radical or far-reaching influence on the fortunes and destiny. Important change and adventures, with new plans, environment and contacts, personal as well as business, may be in line. Employment and all pertaining to writings or promotion are under flourishing signs, but all may be subject to postponement or call for bulldog tenacity to push through cherished projects.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of sudden change and unforeseen contacts and affiliations growing from strange and new plans or ventures. These may have a radical effect on all relations, shaping new destinies and fortunes, but much depends on determined effort and practical management. But promotion and future success are in order. A child born on this day may be brilliant, original, independent, adventurous and should reach high station and fair fortune in life.

Here are three typical oratorical poses of Senator L. J. Dickinson, of Iowa, keynoter of the Republican National Convention, whose silver-tongued rhetoric raises the curtain upon the big pow-wow of the Grand Republican chieftains shortly after Senator Dickinson's arrival in Chicago.

Look Out For Empyema

When infection takes place, causes pus to accumulate within the lining of the chest, we have a condition known as empyema. It may be necessary to repeat the procedure, because the pus is sometimes so thick that it cannot flow readily through the needle.

If pus is found and the patient runs a septic temperature, with signs of difficult breathing, an operation may be advisable. This should not be delayed, because it is important that the pus be removed as soon as possible. Otherwise the pus may break through the lung tissue and reach a large bronchial tube. In that case, when the patient coughs he will expectorate foul, thick, offensive material.

This condition is followed by various complications. Instead of reaching a bronchial tube, the pus may spread and break into other organs or tissues, and form many abscesses. Then surgical attention is required in order to establish drainage immediately, so that pus in the body may be permitted to escape. This is accomplished by an incision so that the pus can be evacuated, with provision for its complete removal by drains. In severe cases it may be necessary to remove a part of one or two ribs.

When the pus is removed the compressed lung is able to expand, and there is no longer difficulty in breathing. The color becomes better and the temperature soon returns to normal. Convalescence is rapid in these operated cases. Complications occur only in cases where operation is delayed.

The operation for empyema can be performed in the home, but when a hospital is available it is advisable to remove the patient there, since the facilities and care received in the hospital aid in a quick and complete recovery.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Diary of a modern Peppy: Lay late. By post a brave autographed etching of Henry L. Doherty, which goes on my workshop wall. So across town and fell in step with George Rector and his lady. And news from Herbert Jones that Agnes, cut for a stone, is on high road to recovery.

In the afternoon motoring with the Ray Longs to their broad acres near Greenwich. Afterward circling about to the Gene Tunney, but they away, and played with their dogs. So back to the city and to one of those teas someone is forever giving for Daniel Frohman.

Worked awhile but with a great weariness, and to Clara Walsh's, and Dr. Romano, an Arab of 70, looking not more than 40, performed evanishments and mental wizardries. Also telling John Charles Thomas, Wellington Cross, Milton Green and me how to thicken our thinning locks with an iodine dilution.

George Rector, now white-haired and suggesting Lloyd George in miniature, has found an outlet for broadcasting. Twenty years ago he his knowledge of cuisine in radio was a striking figure among restaurateurs. Then was launched the ambitious hotel project known as Rector's, which later became The Claridge, and resulted in the collapse of the fortunes of both himself and his illustrious father, Charles. In his day to be recognized by George Rector and piloted to a choice table was the supreme token of Broadway distinction.

There has always been a warm spot in my sentimental remembrances for George Rector. As a fledgling journalist to the metropolis I took my wife, then a bride, to Rector's for dinner one evening. We entered timidly and were immediately bewildered to discover ourselves the only persons not in formal attire. Sensing our confusion, George, to whom we were just two country folks, came in person and escorted us to a table in the inner circle, helped us master intricacies of the enormous menu, and as a final touch, sent over a silver-buckled bottle of champagne with his compliments. My wife did not touch it but I could not bear thought of such magnificent hospitality going to waste. And did I exit walking an imaginary tight wire? Nor have I forgotten the filippany of some white-shirt as I stiffly rounded a turn to the check room. He called out: "Hold her, Newt."

As stay-outs wind up these days of Reuben's, they wound up at Jack's in the Rector days. In the ran-tan of the Battling Nelson Grill I first met the late and lamented Tad. He was harmonizing to Hype Igoo's cigar box ukulele and missing for the one thousand and unth time the last train to Great Neck. Wilson Mizner was about, too. He had just married the rich Mrs. Yerkes and gone social. He came in once after midnight dressed in full fig. Some one inquired where he had been. "Suffling the pumps" he replied—his slang for dancing that only the other week appeared in a drawing room talkie.

May Rule Germany

Above is the most recent picture of Crown Prince Wilhelm of Germany, in whose favor, it is persistently rumored in Berlin, President Paul von Hindenburg will retire on his 85th birthday, October 2. The move, if successfully developed, will once more place the house of Hohenzollern at the head of the German government.

The actor's boarding house comes back. A half dozen brownstones of the Mauve Decade have opened for troupers and suggest the fruity atmosphere glorified by Helen Green in her engaging tales of Madam de Shine in the Morning Telegraph two decades ago. I'm told some are as reasonably priced as $15 a week for room and board and not only restore the community dining table but the star boarder.

"MURDER of the NIGHT CLUB LADY" THE NEW THATCHER COLT DETECTIVE MYSTERY BY ANTHONY ABBOT

SYNOPSIS

Lola Carewe, "The Night Club Lady," is mysteriously murdered in her penthouse apartment at three o'clock New Year's morning. An hour later, the body of Lola's guest, Christine Quires, is found in Lola's room. Christine had been killed first and her body hidden. Dr. Hugh Baldwin attributes both deaths due to heart failure. Guy Everett, Christine's New Year's Eve escort, claims he brought her home at 12:15 and then went riding, alone, on the Motor Parkway. Mrs. Carewe, Lola's mother, denies seeing Christine return. Police Commissioner Thatcher Colt discounts District Attorney Dougherty's theory that Lola was killed by a jewel thief ring she headed and that Christine met the same fate for knowing too much. Vincent Rowland, Lola's lawyer, discloses that Everett loved Lola and was jealous of Dr. Baldwin. The police are on the trail of Christine's brother, Edward, who left his Rochester home for New York after receiving a telegram New Year's Eve. Christine was to have inherited wealth shortly. Dr. Multooler, the medical examiner, contradicted Dr. Baldwin's statement that heart failure caused the deaths. A strap picked up in Lola's room presents mute evidence of having caused the bruise on Christine neck—after death. Everett confesses he lied about riding on the Motor Parkway. He states Christine told him she had discovered a plot to murder Lola and feared for her own life because of her knowledge, adding that Dr. Baldwin was involved. The picture of the young man found in Lola's room is identified by the Paris Prefect of Police as that of Basil Boucher, a young bank clerk, who met a dancer named Lola in Paris, robbed a bank to buy her a ruby, and then disappeared. Basil's parents sold medical laboratory specimens. Prof. Luckner, a scientist, finds a scorpion's antenna—the instrument of death—among the particles of dust gathered from Lola's room. Colt is puzzled as there were no punctures on the body. Luckner calls the Commissioner's attention to Lola's robe.

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

The microscope was placed over a part of the innards of that bisected sleeve. Colt bent down and gave a turn to the screw of the instrument. A low exclamation escaped him.

"I see two dried red spots—of blood?"

"You are right, Herr Commissioner!"

"Then the scorpion was in the robe?"

"I believe that, too—"

"But the bathrobe was put on wrong—"

"I know nothing of that."

"Of course, it was! And the scorpion had to be in the sleeve—"

"Ah!" cried Professor Luckner, "if that were so, the scorpion would make frantic efforts to escape—most surely it would bite—"

With a handkerchief, Thatcher Colt wiped moisture from his brow.

"Professor—how could a person obtain such a scorpion? I must know that."

The professor gave a demure wink.

"One could go to Durango and look in the cellars of old houses," he suggested with an enormous chuckle. "But otherwise, it would be—well, very difficult to obtain such a scorpion."

"But it could be done?"

"Oh, yes, if one were connected with a university laboratory—a biologist or a medical research man—they could arrange it."

"But how?"

"Through supply houses who keep the research laboratories stocked with necessary insects, and I ever tell you the story—"

Colt laid his hand lightly on the old professor's elbow.

"The police have to travel fast, professor. I have sent an agent already to call on these supply houses!"

"Ja wohl! But how? Are you a mind-reader?"

Having reassured Professor Luckner and thanked him profusely, Colt led the way back to our car. Sitting with military erectness in the back seat, he deliberately filled his pipe and lighted it. Then he said:

"It would be possible for a medical man to get that scorpion. The only marks found on Lola's body were the punctures of a hypodermic needle—made by a medical man."

"But the analysis showed the solution was harmless," I remonstrated. "Colt's nod was infinitely sad."

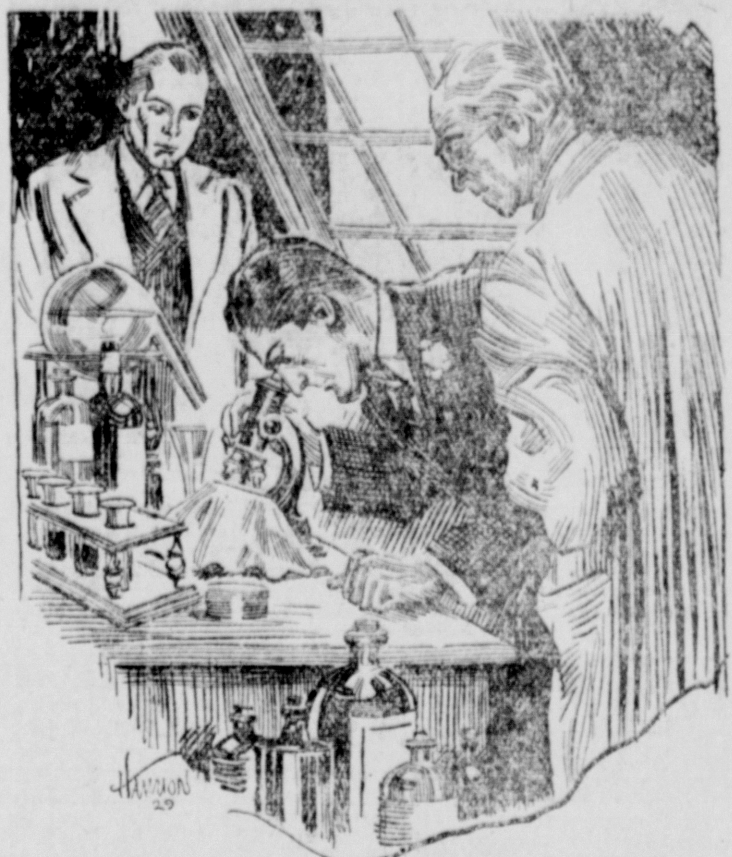

"Right. But do you remember how Doctor Baldwin as he stood beside Lola reached across her body to lift up the arm that was farthest from him? Why? Suppose he did that strange thing because he knew the bite of the scorpion was already there—"

"And he put the point of the hypodermic needle through that?"

"It could have been done," said Thatcher Colt. "I am not ready to say that it was done. But I do want to have a few words with Doctor Baldwin. We have one telephone call to make and then—"

Colt gave directions to the chauffeur to take us to that haunted apartment building where Doctor Baldwin's office was under the same roof with Lola Carewe's home.

The telephone call was made from a drug-store on a corner of Amsterdam avenue, one block west. Colt wanted the latest reports from

Colt bent down and gave a turn to the screw of the instrument. A low exclamation escaped him his office before tackling Doctor Baldwin.

Flynn was at Headquarters, bursting with eagerness to talk with the chief. As this was a public pay-station, there was no extension over which I could listen; thus I heard only Colt's side of the conversation. It was only a brief talk but the facts given to Colt were indeed disturbing.

The first was that no employee of the North Star speaks any code remember having seen Guy Everett in the resort on New Year's Eve. No attendant had opened the grilled iron door to admit the actor, the coat-girl did not remember taking his coat, and no waiter would admit to having served him.

Furthermore, additional inquiries made in the apartment house where Doctor Baldwin made his home, opened a fascinating new field for speculation. It was known that late in the previous evening Mrs. Baldwin had a visitor—a man whom no attendant recognized and who had remained with Mrs. Baldwin until a late hour!

"And further," added Flynn, "you know how I sent a man out to the medical laboratory supply houses. Well—I got something hot. Doctor Baldwin has been buying bugs—poisonous—scorpions—"

"Will they swear to that?" rasped Colt suddenly.

"Sure—a fellow there named Villafraanca—he sold Baldwin a fresh one this morning!"

"Hold on to him!" exclaimed Colt. "I'll talk with you later."

In solemn silence, Thatcher Colt hurried back to the car. Back toward Morningside Heights we hurried. But now a change had come over town and sky, as, indeed, a change had come into my own suspicious-haunted brain. From Long Island Sound a fog of brown and silver mist had fallen over the roof-tops. The trailing folds of vapor fell in eery masses from the terrace railings of apartment houses, rolled in clouds through the canyons of east-west streets and hovered, damp and billowing, in cellar doorways. When he had entered the drug-store to telephone, we had left behind us crisp, yellow sunshine. Fifteen minutes later the light and warmth of the winter morning were gone. We were embraced in a damp plague of fog.

I felt gloomy and depressed and without sensible reason, except the fatigue of our long and unabated efforts. Seemingly we were coming nearer to our quarry, and working with multiplying clues. Yet my despondency increased as our car rolled down the steep slope of Morningside Heights. On we hurried, past the little French cathedral—Eglise de Notre Dame—with its Virgin in a rocky niche over the altar, surrounded by the flames of a thousand candles, and decked about with crutches of persons miraculously healed. The sight of it seemed to me infinitely tragic and forlorn, and this impression deepened as we scurried by St. Luke's hospital, and Gabriel blowing his long trumpet over the seven chapels of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. Down under the roaring bridge of the elevated at One Hundred and Tenth street raced our police car, while the shatter-proof glass of the car windows became obscured with a coating of silver mist that made of the car's interior a chamber of isolation, a compartment of reflection rolling on balloon tires.

I looked at Thatcher Colt. He was refilling his pipe. He looked at me with a lightly amused air that hit, I knew, a deep crisis of excitement.

"Fresh Paint"

There's an advertisement for you. The sign "Fresh Paint" registers; it starts a train of thought; it's news! The skeptic may apply a doubtful finger; but most of us believe this message. Tomorrow when the paint is no longer "fresh," this sign will be gone.

Every day of the year, newspapers are crammed chock-full of such fresh news. It may be the latest information from a great international conference . . . It may be a description of new styles in shoes at a local store . . . But whether it's battleships or ladies' footwear, it's NEWS, fresh, vital, important, timely—the story of the present, the hint of the future.

The advertisements in a daily newspaper mirror local commerce with all the flexibility and up-to-dateness of the front page. The public is not interested in last month's grocery specials, any more than in last month's baseball or football games. So the advertising in your daily paper must change—day by day—just as the news columns. And why not? Advertisements are news!

When a friend of yours shows a profound ignorance of important current events, you say—"Don't you ever read the papers?" You may ask the same question of all those who never know where to shop . . . or what's new in the world of merchandise. That's all in the papers . . . in advertisements . . . news . . . the latest . . . the true . . . the timeliest.

payment, the police sought recruits for a departing force that appeared to be forming.

Many of those who trudged into the city through a downpour of rain stopped on Capitol Hill to join comrades in lobbying for a favorable house vote today on the bonus issue.

All were hopeful, but the spirit of a few became as dampened as their tattered clothing in the rain which made their encampments soggy mudholes.

So despondent was one group of 17 that they sent an emissary to appeal to Pelham D. Glassford, police superintendent, to take them by truck toward their homes. In dry weather last week, the veterans secured transportation offered by police.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeanette Young Norton

EASY MAIN DISHES

"What meats can I cook that will involve the least work, and be adequate for several meals?" asks the bachelor who likes to do the cooking when he has weekend guests down at his country cottage. A big juicy steak cooked in the open is the usual grand-stand play on such occasions. It's the lusty dish which most men enjoy cooking, and it's fairly easy—if the fire's right. It takes half an hour of a good fire to produce the bed of hot, glowing coals that will do the broiling with speed and a minimum of smoke.

Preparing Ox Tongue

Simpler, however, is the plan of preparing a substantial joint a day before. If an oven is available then roasts like beef, ham, lamb or veal are practical. They of course need watching, frequent basting. Least fussy are the smoked or pickled meats—corned beef, pork tenderloin, tongue. An ox tongue is palatable, substantial and can be cooked without watching. Soak the tongue in cold water overnight. Drain in the morning, put in a deep kettle, cover with cold water and cook slowly until it comes to a boil. Throw that water away, add fresh cold water, then bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer over a low flame. Allow half an hour per pound of meat, and forget about it until that time has expired. When tender turn off the heat and let the tongue cool in the water in which cooked—that is, if it is to be served cold. If it's to be served at once, remove from liquid, then place on a board or platter, and remove the thick outer skin, beginning at the largest end. It will peel off with no trouble at all. Tongue should be cut in thin slices, either hot or cold—several thin slices even in a sandwich being more delicate than one thick section.

cations, members of the Morrow and Lindbergh households were present.

"In view of Ernest Miller's statement and Brinkert's alibi, do you still believe Violet Sharpe had a guilty knowledge of the crime? Will you publicly exonerate her?" Schwarzkopf was asked.

"This is a matter of opinion," he answered.

Shatters Police Theory

Miller, telling a story that checked, said he, Miss Catherine Minners and Elmer Johnson went to a dance and restaurant with Violet on the kidnapping night. His story, which shattered the police theory that Brinkert was the "Ernie" with whom Violet went out, was corroborated by Miss Minners.

Only one thing remains to be cleared up so far as Violet Sharpe is concerned. Police said they found in her room a number of business cards of a taxi concern Brinkert used to operate. He has denied knowing her.

Why Gladioluses Are Glad

Who wouldn't be glad to be a gladiolus and be cared for by a beauty like Evelyn Furtch, who is shown in the heart of the big bouquet? These prize blossoms have been selected as the official flowers of the feminine Olympic games athletes and will be used by the hundred in greeting girl contenders as they arrive in Los Angeles for the big meet. Miss Furtch, besides being extremely decorative, is one of the outstanding sprinters of Southern California.

people, but recommends neither repeal, retention, nor modification.

Organized drys, in a continuous succession of rallies yesterday and today, denounced the proposal as insipid and insidious.

Some spoke bitterly of betrayal at the hands of a president they trusted. Dr. F. Scott McBride declared Mr. Hoover never could hope to be re-elected on such a platform.

The wets were quite as critical, and they gave tangible evidence of an impressive strength among the delegates. Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler denounced the Washington creation as hypocritical and childish.

Wets Are Noisier

If the decision were to be made on noise and flourish alone, the wets probably would have it. Yesterday they produced a monster demonstration over Lake Michigan, dumping "old man prohibition" into the deep from a high-flying airplane and tonight they will continue with a parade through downtown Chicago.

Few would predict how it would all come out today as the last of the delegations trekked into town for tomorrow's opening convention session in the mammoth, flag-dressed stadium.

James R. Garfield of Ohio, the platform committee chairman, would only say he hoped for the best.

It will be Wednesday before any sort of plank comes out of the committee. Tomorrow's opening session will be short, devoted to first formalities and to the keynote of Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa.

Wednesday is platform day, and Thursday is to see the nomination completed, if all goes smoothly, and final adjournment.

Most of the threat seemed today to have been taken out of the anti-Curtis movement which had mustered so strong an unrecurrent 48 hours earlier. Word went around that President Hoover so much desired Mr. Curtis' renomination that he was prepared to make an issue of it if necessary.

ELEVEN KILLED OVER WEEK-END

Automobile Plunges 40 Feet Through Bridge At Newport, Ky.

(By Associated Press) At least 11 Ohioans lost their lives yesterday in auto accidents or by drowning.

Most serious of the accidents was the crash of an automobile through a bridge railing at Newport, Ky., carrying three men to death and injuring two others possibly fatally.

Those killed in the auto at Newport were Everett Thomasson, 35, Frank Scott, 38, and Harry Hadler, 32, and the injured were Malcolm F. King, 30, and R. C. Thomas, 25, all of Cincinnati.

Plunges 40 Feet

The car plunged 40 feet from the bridge to a street below, pinning the victims in the wreckage.

Miss Frances Tusey, 19, and Claud Gilbert, 25, both of Xenia, drowned in the Ohio river near Ripley, when they were thrown overboard from a capsized motorboat. Rose Ellen Frye of Washington courthouse and Harold Courthous of Xenia, clung to the craft until rescuers arrived, but Miss Tusey lost her hold and drowned with Gilbert while he was trying to save her.

Although an excellent swimmer, Earl B. Ross, Jr., 15, drowned in Alum creek near Columbus. A physician said the boy apparently was stricken with a heart attack.

Samuel Bushbaum, 18, of Greene county, drowned while swimming in a Clark county stream.

Frolics, Auto Collide

The collision of a Cincinnati and Lake Erie trolley car with an automobile at Hamilton killed Aaron Craig, 51, of near Venice, O., and injured Mrs. Craig, 45, and Mrs. Asa Purdy, 27.

Harry Vincent, 22, of Norwalk, was killed while standing in the rear of his automobile on a Norwalk street when struck by an auto driven by Fred L. Simon of Butler, Pa., formerly of Norwalk.

William Andriatis, 49, suffered fatal injuries at Steubenville when he stumbled against the side of a moving automobile, and a man identified as Edwin Rowley by pa-

ROBBER SHOOT DOCTOR'S WIFE

Cleveland Woman May Be Fatally Hurt; Husband Knocked Down

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, June 13.—Apparently the victims of a burglar, Mrs. Vera Steer, 40, was found wounded, probably fatally, early today beside the unconscious form of her husband, Dr. J. O. Steer, in the bedroom of their Cleveland home.

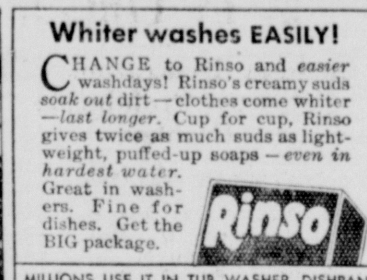

Mrs. Steer was shot in the head. Her husband suffered a deep scalp wound from a blow.

In an incoherent account to police, while they took him to St. Luke's hospital, Dr. Steer said he was struck down by a burglar who arose from his bed to grapple with him.

The blow knocked the doctor senseless, and when he came to he was lying on the floor. Mrs. Steer, unconscious from the wound in her head, was lying on a bed.

Mumbling so badly he could hardly be understood, Dr. Steer telephoned for help. The police found a revolver, apparently the same weapon used by the robber, in the room. The contents of Mrs. Steer's purse were strewn about and several drawers had been ransacked.

Although neighbors heard a shot fired, the two children of Dr. and Mrs. Steer were asleep in another part of the house when the police arrived. An open rear window showed how the assailant escaped.

and chief of the Hoover forces; Senator Simon D. Fess, Yellow Springs, chairman of the national committee; Ed D. Schorr, state chairman; and Maurice Maschke, of Cleveland.

Unless requested otherwise from the White House, it was said these four will favor some form of re-submission of the prohibition issue. The report that Fess would consent to this stand caused surprise in some quarters, but those who know him well believe he is ready and willing to abide by the majority.

As for the other three leaders, it has been known that Maschke is "wet"; that Schorr personally favors repeal but wants the platform to declare for re-submission to state conventions, and that Brown favors a plank suitable to all forces.

If possible, the Ohio delegation will hold its first caucus tonight. Fess probably will be named chairman, and E. W. Edwards of Cincinnati, was the likely choice for vice-chairman.

Schorr To Be Secretary
Schorr is the expected selection for secretary. Mrs. Wilma Sinclair Le Van, Steubenville, to be the Ohio member of the permanent organizations committee. State Senator Robert Taft, Cincinnati, member of the credentials committee; and Mrs. Gertrude Hanna, Cleveland, member of the rules committee.

$2,500 STOLEN IN BANK HOLDUP

Gashier And President At Seville, O., Are Tied Up As Robbers Escape

(By Associated Press)

SEVILLE, O., June 13.—Two men, members of what appeared to be a bandit gang, held up the Seville State bank about 9:30 a. m. today and escaped with cash estimated at $2,500.

The robbers, first asking change for a $5 bill, thrust pistols in the face of T. J. Sailors, cashier, as he opened the cash drawer in the teller's cage.

Sailors, with H. A. Stebbins, president, was tied in a chair at the rear of the banking room. There were no customers present.

The men fled in an automobile stolen at Shreve a month ago, out-distancing Sheriff Lyman Buffington and a deputy who were summoned from Medina, nine miles north. Trace of the car was lost north of Massillon.

The two robbers, dressed in overalls and apparently young men, were driven away by a third man who waited in the gar. At the edge of town they picked up a fourth man.

The bandit car was said by persons who glimpsed it, to carry a small machine gun. Two other automobiles, believed to be carrying other gang members, followed the car.

Orchardmen Plan Conference June 16

A meeting of Columbiana county orchardmen, to demonstrate thinning of fruit and to discuss an orchard cultural program, will be held in the orchard of L. J. Kirk near Middleton at 1:30 p. m. Thursday, June 16, according to an announcement just made by County Agent Floyd Lower.

C. S. Holland, extension orchardist, will conduct the demonstration and lead the discussion.

A similar meeting of Mahoning county orchardmen will be held at the W. H. Matthews orchard, one and one half miles north of Salem, at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, June 15.

For the conservative investor, the bonds of the well entrenched public utility operating companies should be attractive at this time. The revenue from utility operations, that is electric light, power and gas, has held up extremely well on a comparative basis and while the trend may continue downward for some months to come, payment of bond interest should not be endangered unless the down trend is considerably accelerated from its present rate.

The recent federal three per cent tax, together with possible state taxes on electric energy, will have a tendency to reduce revenues. Likewise, the utility industry cannot expect to escape the readjustment which is taking place in all other industries and eventually will no doubt be forced to grant some rate reductions. Agitation for public ownership will be another threat against this industry but in the end will probably prove to be more psychological than real.

Against the unfavorable factors mentioned above may be placed the excellent record of the public utility operating companies in the past, the monopolistic nature of their business, the absolute necessity for the use of their product and the promise of participation in any revival of prosperity through increased use on the part of present customers and through development of new uses both for gas and for electric energy. Regardless of any uncertainty which may threaten the public utility operating companies, there is good reason to believe that they will make a favorable showing in comparison with any other field of investment.

Special Session Of Jury Under Way

LISBON, June 13.—A special session of the grand jury began this morning in No. 2 court room. It was believed at first that a report would be made to Judge W. F. Lones late Tuesday afternoon, but the session may go into the third day on account of the filing of additional transcripts.

No major offenses are to be considered by the jury at this session, although a number of cases of breaking and entering, robbery and automobile violations are to be presented for investigation.

Mayor John M. Davidson was called to testify before the jury this afternoon.

LISBON CLUB CLOSES SEASON

Mrs. Maude Steele Hostess At Her Home In West High St.

LISBON, June 13.—The Wednesday Night Bridge club closed its winter and spring schedule when the members were entertained at the home of Mrs. Maude Steele, West High street. The club will continue its social activities next fall, and during the closed season a 32-33 schedule will be proposed.

A meeting of the Seventh degree members at Butler grange hall will be held this evening with Robert M. Patterson of Lisbon being the guest speaker.

Invitations have been received here for the annual golf tournament and stag entertainment for June. It was decided to hold the annual picnic at Oakdale grove, east of town, with families of members as guests. Program features included a trumpet solo by Frederick Lower; a reading by Miss Doris May and a vegetable contest in charge of Mrs. Carl Keller, who will be hostess at the July meeting.

The W. C. T. U. met Thursday afternoon at the M. E. church with 30 members present, and Mrs. W. D. Young in charge of the occasion. The Bouquets for the sick and shut-ins were made in observance of Flower Mission day. Local members will attend the county institute to be held Tuesday at Winona. A state worker of the Young People's branch will be in Columbiana some time in July. The local young people will attend a district picnic to be held at Salem next Wednesday.

Chaplain Carl Siler of the U. S. Navy, stationed at San Diego, Calif., who, with Mrs. Siler, is visiting relatives in this vicinity, occupied the pulpit of the Lutheran church Sunday morning. His topic was: "The Opportunities of the Church Through the Naval Chaplain." Rev. Siler will preach at New Waterford in the afternoon.

SALEM ATHLETES WIN HONORS IN DISTRICT A. A. U. TRACK MEET

THE DAY IN SPORTS

THREE DOLLARS bet across the boards on the Cincinnati Reds April 1 would have been one of the best gambles ever made in baseball as it turns out in June.

Lack of pitching strength may keep the Reds from winning the pennant, but their hitting power is certain to keep them in the running for second or third place all the way to the finish.

If the Reds should happen to win the flag, $1 bet on them to finish first, $1 to finish second and $1 to finish third would return the bettor $1,600.

The odds quoted against the Reds April 1 by Jack Doyle, Broadway betting commissioner, were 1000-1 to win the pennant, 400-1 to finish second, 200-1 to finish third.

It wasn't long after the major league races opened, and the Reds, with the aid of Hafey, Herman, Lombard, and other new players, had demonstrated first division strength that the odds against them winning the pennant dropped all the way from 1000-1 to 20-1, the present price. Several Cincinnati gamblers are reported to have placed large wagers on the Reds to finish first and second.

Just how far off the opening odds on the baseball races were to be seen from line quoted in April:

National League
Cards	Even
Giants	5-2
Cubs	3-1
Brooklyn	30-1
Pittsburgh	50-1
Boston	100-1
Philadelphia	100-1
Cincinnati	1000-1

American League
Athletics	6-5
Yankees	9-5
Washington	3-1
Cleveland	12-1
Detroit	30-1
Boston	100-1
St. Louis	500-1
White Sox	1000-1

The Boston Braves have turned out to be another dark-horse that would have returned fancy odds on a $3 bet to finish first second and third. The odds against the Braves in April were 100-1 to win, 40-1 to finish second and 20-1 to finish third.

Fred Cope Nosed Out for Third Honors In Race
By Team Mate

Salem was again qualified as a city productive of many great athletes as track and field stars from here won honors in the annual Amateur Athletic Union meet at Lakewood stadium, Cleveland, Saturday.

The name of Lowell E. Allen of Salem, has been recommended to Lawson Robertson, head coach of the United States Olympic team, for membership on the team.

Allen won the pole vault by clearing 13 ft. 3 in. while two other Salem vaulters, William Robusch and Keith "Mutt" Roessler, finished second and third, respectively.

Allen's vault topped the record of 11 ft. 10 in. set last year by Roessler.

Harold Horstman was third in a fast 1,500-meter race won by Sharon McMullen of Akron in 4 m. 6.5 sec. Sexton of Willard was second in the race, Horstman beating out Freddie Cope, another Salem entry, to the finish in the battle for third honors.

Records Broken
Several records fell during the afternoon, Jesse Owens of Cleveland being the world 100-meter record of 10.3 sec.

Wilbur J. Springer, Salem High principal, was in charge of the Salem entries.

James A. Lee, manager, announced, after the meet that he had wired recommendations to Lawson Robertson, head coach of the American Olympic team, for the following:

Owens in the 100 meters and broad jump; Norman Lambacher in the 200 meters; Stella Walsh in the 50 meters, 100 meters and discus for women; Jack Service, 800 meters; Dave Albritton, high jump; Sharon McMullen, 1,500 meters; Pete Rasmus, discus; Lowell Allen, pole vault; London Gant and Charles Stone, javelin; and Chuck Hanserd, broad jump.

SELECT OLYMPIC STARS
Ohio Athletics Pick to Compete in International Games on Coast (By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 13.—Fifteen track stars who helped turn in an assortment of records in the N. C. A. A. championships will go to the final Olympic trials at Palo Alto, Cal., July 15-16 at the expense of the American Olympic committee.

Those who landed among the first three in each event of last Saturday's record smashing meet are eligible to compete in the final trials, but restricted finances will permit only the cream of the lot to go expenses paid.

The list has not yet been prepared by A. A. Stagg, Sr., but on the basis of performance Saturday, the lineup probably will include:

Metcalfe Sets Records
RALPH METCALFE of Marquette, who won both dashes in world record time—the century in 9 5-10 seconds, equalling the accepted world mark, and continuing through 103 meters, the Olympic distance, in 10 2-10 seconds, twenty-four of a second faster than the world record.

He followed up by winning the 220-yard dash in 20 5-10, a tenth of a second better than the world record, and on the way, passed the 200 meter mark in 20 3-10, three-tenths of a second under world record figures.

JACK KELLER of Ohio State, who raced the 220 yard low hurdles in 22 7-10 seconds to chip three-tenths of a second from the accepted world record.

GEORGE SALING of Iowa, whose 14 1-10 seconds for the 120 yard high hurdles was three-tenths of a second under the approved world mark.

Cunningham Wins Mile
GLEN CUNNINGHAM, who ran the fastest outdoor mile ever accomplished in America in beating Henry Brooksmith of Indiana in 4:11.

CHARLES VOGERT of Miami University, who set a new N. C. A. A. record of 9:16.7 to beat Brooksmith in the two-mile, Brooksmith who drove Cunningham and Shugart to records.

WILLIS WARD, Michigan freshman, who jumped 6 feet, 7 1-8 inches, and Bert Nelson of Butler, who cleared 6 feet, 5 3-4 inches in the high jump.

HUGH RIEP, Nebraska, foot-ball star, who set a new N. C. A. A. record of 52 feet, 5 3-4 inches, for the 16-pound shot put.

BRYCE BEACHER, Indiana, John Wonsowicz, Ohio State, and Living Seeley, Illinois freshman, who cleared 13 feet 10 inches in the pole vault.

Oh, if this Were Maxie!

Recognizing that his coming battle with Max Schmeling is his last opportunity to ascend the throne of battle royalty, Jack Sharkey has thrown himself body and soul into the task of reaching the peak of his form for his attempt to lift the heavyweight crown from the brow of the Teuton champion. The Boston job is shown in a workout with the big bag at his camp in Orangeburg, N. Y. The title bout is scheduled for June 21 at the new open air stadium in Long Island City, N. Y.

20 Horses Line Up for Derby

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 13.—The withdrawal of Burgoo King, leader of the season's three year olds has made the $50,000 added American derby, Saturday's climax of the Washington park racing season, another of those wide open affairs.

The King, victorious in the Kentucky derby and the Preakness, was about to be shipped from New York to make a try for the rich prize, but bowed a tendon in training and probably will not race again this season.

With Burgoo King out, the field probably will be larger and as many as 20 thoroughbreds may line-up for the mile and a quarter test for fame and gold. Economic, from the J. H. Loucheim stable, second to the King in the Kentucky derby and winner of the Ohio Derby, already has been made the choice, but the backing will be spread around by Saturday.

Herd hitting in late innings gave the strong Dunn Eden lake club an 8-5 victory over the Sharline A. C. in a thrilling battle at Dunn Eden lake Sunday.

What started out as a pitchers' battle between Smith of Eden and Krupp of Sharline developed into a hard hitting melee with the Lakers holding a big edge as they pounded out all their runs in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings.

Pete Sartick's work in the field for Eden was one of the features.

"Joe" Reese's all-stars were too strong for the collection of softball talent assembled by Earl Beardmore as the two teams collided in a "grudge" battle at Centennial park field Saturday afternoon.

Pounding out 17 hits, the Reese stars were victorious by the one-sided 12-4 margin.

Pete Sanders was on the mound for the losers with Beardmore behind the bat. Al Sanders, pitching, and Wang catching was the Reese battery.

Both teams were composed en-

COLUMBUS CLUB IMPROVES; NOW IN 2ND PLACE

Fans Flock to Support of Club; Minneapolis
Retains Lead

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 13.—A winning club at Columbus is getting the kind of results most satisfying to the management — results in the form of activity at the turnstiles.

Since the Red Birds started their ascent toward the top of the American Association, crowds in the new stadium have been not only the best in years for Columbus, but the best in the league.

Wins Doubleheader
Yesterday Columbus crowded into second place by whipping Kansas City twice, 10 to 9, and 4 to 0, while Minneapolis was taking a pair from Indianapolis, and 10,454 spectators watched the doubleheader.

The Red Birds bunched hits off Bob Osborne and Lou Fette to win the first game, and in the second, Pete Fowler pitched effectively enough to blank the Blues. Evar Swanson's bat assisted Columbus in both games, his total for the day being a triple, two doubles and a single in nine times up.

Minneapolis retained its three and one-half game margin over second place in tripping Indianapolis, 16 to 6, and 2 to 1, in seven innings. Nineteen hits, including a home-run by Art Rube, three triples and four doubles, used up four Indian hurlers in the opener.

Toledo Drops Two
Milwaukee staged a pair of late rallies to take two games from Toledo. The Brewers five runs in the eighth inning of the first game and managed to stand off a ninth inning uprising by the Mud Hens to win, 10 to 9, and in the second battle, shoved over four runs in the ninth to grab a 5 to 2 decision.

Louisville and St. Paul divided their set. The Colonels took the opener, 7 to 3, and Russell Van Atta pitched three hit ball in the second to help the Saints to a 1 to 0 triumph.

Army's Star Athlete Honored

Cadet Ray J. Stecker, of Hazelton, Pa., is shown as he received the Army Athletic Association sabre trophy from Major General W. D. Connor, superintendent of West Point Military Academy, at the annual regimental parade ceremonies, held recently. The award was made to Cadet Stecker as the best all around athlete of the graduating class. Stecker was one of the Army's most brilliant grid stars last season.

Eastern Olympic Candidates Enter Strong Bid For Honors

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, June 13.—The East's challenge to Olympic hopefuls from other sections of the United States is not to be overlooked.

Record Good Marks
Three marks were recorded in the field events Saturday and Sunday that were better than the winning performances in the 1928 Olympic games and several others would have come very close to victory if they had been made at Amsterdam four years ago. Two of these fine performances were turned in by members of the 1928 United States team who are trying to earn places on this year's squad.

John F. Anderson, former Cornell star who took fifth place in the discus throw at Amsterdam with a 147 foot toss, showed his "comeback" stuff again by flinging the platter 156 feet 6 inches, more than a foot further than Clarence "Bud" Hausner had to throw it to win in 1928.

Connor Improves
Frank Connor, who threw the hammer for the United States in the last Olympics and took sixth place, couldn't touch Pat O'Callaghan's winning mark of 168 feet 7 1/2 inches but he took the meet honors with a throw of 160 5/8 inches, some seven feet better than he did at Amsterdam.

Leo Sexton, another comeback campaigner who has had a great year took the shot put with 52 feet 1 1/2 inches, bettering John Kuck's Olympic throw of 52 feet 3 inches, and George Spitz, the flashy New York University jumper cleared the bar at 6 feet 5 far below his own best marks but % of an inch better than the jump that won for R. W. King in 1928.

Network microphones, installed in Chicago's stadium, will be opened wide tomorrow for the Republican convention. It is scheduled to start at 11 a. m.

Each day both NBC and CBS are to be on the air with the proceedings. Several other broadcasts in the nature of summaries are also planned.

Because it cannot be determined in advance how long a particular session will be broadcast, regular program schedules may be somewhat interrupted.

Veteran announcers, Graham McNamee for NBC and Ted Husing for CBS, head the radio staffs on the job.

Calls On Hoover For Suggestions

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 13—A resolution calling upon President Hoover to submit to congress "specific suggestions" to bring about the additional governmental economies he has recommended was introduced today by Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader.

America's Ladybird in Great Britain

THEATER Attractions

"AS YOU DESIRE ME," with Greta Garbo in what she terms her last role for American pictures, completes its run today at the State.

This is a story of a woman with a dual personality which causes her much trouble and brings her much happiness. Taken from the brilliant play by Luigi Pirandello, it is much like its successful predecessor and especially in that it does not disclose the identity of Zara, the role played by Garbo, to the audience.

In the opening scenes Garbo, as the disheartened actress who finds her solace in drink, is magnificent and she plays the part with a brilliancy that never leaves her through the entire film.

Melvin Douglas as the leading man turns in a splendid performance. Eric Von Stroheim, Hedda Hopper, Owen Moore and Albert Conti head a fine supporting cast.

COMING ATTRACTIONS for Tuesday and Wednesday at the State include Ruth Chatterton's new film vehicle, "The Rich Are Always With Us."

George Brent, who was last seen here with Barbara Stanwyck in "So Big" and who is slated for roles opposite the leading feminine stars given the lead opposite Miss Chatterton.

The star appears as the wealthiest member of the wealthy set, happily married until she discovers her husband "cheating" with a heartless debutante, whom he marries after the divorce which sets them both free. In spite of her love for Julian Tierney, a successful author, portrayed by George Brent, Miss Chatterton fears to marry again, because of her previous painful experience. She has, moreover, a motherly interest in her former husband which time and again nearly disrupts her love for the author. A surprise climax gives the story an added filip, all the more interesting because of its novelty and surprise.

Others of importance are Bette Davis, John Miljan, Adrienne Dore, John Wray, Mae Madison, Robert Warwick, Virginia Hammond, Walter Walker and Burton Churchill, all of whom are noted portrayals of character.

Morrow Suicide Maid and Sister

Visiting Rajah

One of the richest men in the world, Rajah, Chand Bahadur, Rajah of Jubal, India, is now realizing one of the ambitions of his life—seeing the Grand Canyon. The Rajah, shown above at Los Angeles, is on a world tour, accompanied by the Ranees. He was so pleased by all he saw in America that he declared he will come back some day to spend a long vacation.
